WALKING THE LINE: A Tribute to Johnny Cash

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 27 AT 3 P.M. Join us for Walking the Line: A Tribute to Johnny Cash. On February 26, the Man in Black would have been 79. Walking the Line takes you on a musical journey performing material from every decade of Cash's legendary career. Long Island's own Tom Cavanagh, whose most recent gig was as lead guitar in Broadway's Rock of Ages, plays the part of Johnny Cash. The 7-piece band comes complete with three Carter sisters providing harmonies — Christine Vaskas as June, Lisa Stawecki as Anita and Jess Katz as Helen. Also, James Erickson on guitar as Luther Perkins, Kenny Kearney on bass as Marshall Grant, Chris Pagano on drums as W.S. Holland. If you love the music of Johnny Cash, but never got to see him live, this is as close as you can get.

Fortune & Spirits

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25 AT 7:30 P.M.: SoundSwap presents the band Fortune & Spirits in a live performance. Along with The Red Season, Fortune & Spirits rose from the ashes of indie pop/jazz sextet Nothing Plural. Founded in 2007 through a partnership of producer/solo artist Jim Robert and drummer Matthew Record, Fortune & Spirits eventually grew to include a full rock band setup and string section. Fortune & Spirits has from its inception been writing songs for a forthcoming eponymous debut album.

February holidays

The library will be open 1 to 5 p.m. on Monday, February 21 in observance of Presidents' Day.

Men's book group

Join us on Tuesday, February 1 at 2 or 7:30 p.m. for a discussion of Summertime by J.M. Coetzee. In this autobiographical novel, a young biographer is researching for his book about the deceased John Coetzee. He interviews various people who knew Coetzee when he was in his 30s, based on the notion that this was the period in which Coetzee developed himself as a writer.

AARP Tax Help

Get help with your tax return on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. February 1 through April 12. Appointment required — call the Information Desk for availability.

New magazines

The library has added following titles to our extensive collection: ADDitude, Concrete Wave, The Fisherman, Food and Wine, Le Monde Diplomatique, Teen Voices and The Week. The latest copies of Concrete Wave and Teen Voices can be found in TeenSpace. The most recent editions of the other titles are in the Reading Room. If you have a suggestion for a new title, please contact the Reference Desk.

Tai Chi

Improve your balance, stamina, coordination and well being with Tai Chi. Registration for a 4-session series begins March 3. See next month's issue for details.

Interested in running for the library board?

The Library Budget Vote & Trustee Election takes place Tuesday, April 12. This year, there is an open seat on the Board of Trustees. Residents interested in being a candidate should pick up a petition at the Administration Office Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. beginning February 14. After hours and on weekends, please ask for the librarian in charge. Petitions must be returned by March 14. Please keep the following dates in mind — February 16: Budget Hearing/Board Meeting, March 16: Budget Hearing/Board Meeting, and March 30: Budget Information Session & Meet the Candidates' Night.

Meet author Tom Franklin

Crooked Letter, Crooked Letter, Edgar Award-winner Tom Franklin's third novel, tells a riveting story of rural Mississippi.

The author visits on Tuesday, February 8 at 11:30 a.m.

In the 1970s, the South was rife with racial tension, but skin color didn't matter to boyhood companions Silas Jones and Larry Ott. Silas, the son of a poor, single black mother, and Larry, the child of white lower-middle-class parents, were both outsiders — Silas because of his color, Larry because he was quiet and a little odd. Their bond strengthened over time, until the night a pretty local girl went on a date with Larry and was never heard from again.

No body was found and Larry never confessed, but that didn't keep the townspeople from suspecting him.

"[A] terrific new novel.... if you're looking for a smart, thoughtful story that sinks deep into a Southern hamlet of the American psyche," says the Washington Post.

Books will be available for purchase and signing. Refreshments will be served. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

Save the date: Sunday, March 20

Friends' FOL University features Bogen Memorial Lecture

"Herman Melville's classic Moby Dick is perhaps the greatest of all American novels. Melville, however, was virtually unknown in his day. He was a genius who, after a youth of wandering and adventure, sat down to write his masterpiece at the midpoint of the 19th century.

"Yet, upon publication Moby Dick was denounced and worse, ignored, by the critics, and Melville died unknown — so obscure that newspaper obituary writers were surprised to learn that he wasn't already dead," says professor Andrew Delbanco.

Delbanco, Chair of the American Studies Department at Columbia University and author of Melville: His World and Work, will be welcomed by the Friends of the Library on Sunday, March 20 to present the Ruth D. Bogen Memorial Lecture at FOL University. His topic for the afternoon, "Melville in his Time and Ours," will focus on why Melville was unrecognized in his own time, and why his genius, recognized over the course of the 20th century, speaks to us so powerfully today.

Andrew Delbanco's essays appear regularly in The New York Review of Books, The New Republic, The New York Times Magazine, and other journals, on topics ranging from American literary and religious history to contemporary issues in higher education. In 2001, he was named by Time Magazine as "America's Best Social Critic," and in 2003 was named New York State Scholar of the Year by the New York Council for the Humanities.

See next month's issue for information on a second FOL University Scholar.

Rick Derringer graces the cover of Steve Rosenfield's and Eppy Epstein's Fun & Dangerous. The pair visits the library on February 15 to share stories of My Father's Place from 1975-80.

Owner of fabled Roslyn club visits with his new book

Meet Michael "Eppy" Epstein, owner of the fabled My Father's Place, on Tuesday, February 15 at 7:30 p.m. His book, Fun & Dangerous: Untold Tales, Unseen Photos, Unearthed Music from My Father's Place 1975-1980, tells the official behind-the-scenes story of how the club rose to celebrated international prominence.

Located in Roslyn village, the club was the premier venue for local talent and an essential tour stop for established national acts.

During its prolific era, My Father's Place presented an unmatched and unforgettable range of talent in rock, jazz, fusion, country, punk, soul, reggae, folk and comedy. No other club in America showcased the breadth and depth of talent that appeared at My Father's Place.

Some of the standouts included Bruce Springsteen, Aerosmith, Billy Joel, The Police, Talking Heads, George Carlin, James Brown, Stanley Clarke, B.B. King, Stevie Ray Vaughn, Burning Spear, Charlie Daniels, Billy Crystal, Linda Ronstadt and Rick Derringer.

Eppy will be joined by photographer Steven Rosenfield and a surprise guest. If you were there, come relive the past . . . if you weren't, come see what you missed.

Books will be available for purchase and signing.

This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

Frank: The Voice

Author James Kaplan will discuss his book Frank: The Voice (Doubleday, 2010) on Sunday, February 20 at 2 p.m.

Sinatra was pop culture's quintessential man of contradictions: the bullying tough guy whose singing could radiate a remarkable tenderness and vulnerability; the ring-a-ding-ding Vegas sophisticate with an existential outlook on life; the jaunty urbanite who could deliver a torch song like no one else. Fans could recognize his voice from two or three perfectly phrased syllables, and they knew him instantly from his style: the rakishly tilted hat, the coat slung over one shoulder, the Camels and Jack Daniels.

The New York Times raves that Kaplan's biography "has all the emotional detail and narrative momentum of a novel."

Television producer Bob

Waldman will host the program and present clips from Sinatra's career.

Frances Hynes: Dawn to Dusk — Recent Work

February 2 through March 1

The Art Advisory Council hosts a reception on Saturday, February 5 from 2 to 4 p.m.

The paintings of Frances Hynes were first seen in New York City at Poindexter Gallery in the 1974 New Talent Festival sponsored by eighteen New York galleries to provide venues for new artists. During 1976-1978, she participated in the National Studio Program at P.S. 1 Contemporary Art Center, Long Island City, and the P.S. 1 project "A Month of Sundays."

Frances was represented by Terry Dintenfuss Gallery, New York, 1981-1994. In 1995, she Hynes served as visiting artist professor at Burren College of Art, County Clare, Ireland. Inspired by her stays in Ireland, she created work titled The Irish Paintings, alluding to myth, belief and the human condition. Her paintings are in museum collections including the Brooklyn Museum; Farnsworth Museum, Rockland, MA; The National Museum of Women in the Arts, Washington, DC; The Newark Museum, NJ; New Britain Museum of American Art, CT; The Queens Museum of Art, Flushing, NY; and The Telfair Museum of Art, Savannah, GA.

Frances Hynes earned a MA degree from New York University, and a BA from St. John's University. As a student at NYU, she performed in a happening, Outskirts, 1967, choreographed by Robert Rauschenberg and presented at Loeb Student Center. She received an Artist's Fellowship-National Endowment for the Arts in 1980. Presently she teaches at La Guardia Community College of the City University of New York, Long Island City.

What's new in TeenSpace for grades 7 through 12?

Digital Photography

Saturday, March 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. Explore your world through images. Learn about lighting, composition and creativity using professional equipment provided by photographer Michael E. Ach, whose pictures have appeared in Newsday, The New York Times, Vanity Fair and Time Magazine. He has taught photography at C.W. Post and The New York Institute of Technology. In-person registration begins February 14. Workshop fee: $5. Co-sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

Love is in the Air:

Romantic Novels for Teens

Check out these books that celebrate love, crushes, misguided infatuations and, of course, romance!

Sleepless by Cyn Balog. A supernatural being known as a Sandman, whose purpose is to seduce humans to sleep, falls in love with a sad teenage girl who is mourning her boyfriend's death.

Dash and Lily's Book of Dares by Rachel Cohn and David Levithan.

Told in the alternating voices of Dash and Lily, two 16-year-olds carry on a wintry scavenger hunt in New York City, neither knowing quite what — or who — they will find.

The Half-Life of Planets by Emily Franklin and Brendan Halpin. An unlikely romance develops between a science-minded girl who is determined to reclaim her reputation and a boy with Asperger's Syndrome.

Beautiful Darkness by Kami Garcia and Margaret Stohl. In a small southern town with a secret world hidden in plain sight, 16-year-old Lena, who possesses supernatural powers and faces a life-altering decision, draws away from her true love, a mortal with frightening visions.

A Love Story Starring My Dead Best Friend by Emily Horner. As she tries to sort out her feelings, 17-year-old Cass, a spunky math genius with an introverted streak, finds a way to memorialize her dead best friend.

Captivate by Carrie Jones. High school junior Zara and her friends try to contain the pixies that threaten their small Maine town, but when a Valkyrie takes Zara's boyfriend Nick to Valhalla, the only way to save him is to trust the pixie king.

Things I Know About Love by Kate LeVann. Seventeen-year-old Livia travels from England to Princeton, New Jersey, to visit her brother and to celebrate her recovery from a year-long struggle with leukemia. She writes a blog about her experiences, which include falling in love.

Addicted to Her by Janet Nicholos Lynch. After falling obsessively in love, high school wrestler Rafael Montoya must choose between a reckless young woman and responsibilities to his family and future.

The Eternal Ones by Kirsten Miller. Seventeen-year-old Haven leaves east Tennessee to attend college in New York, where she meets playboy Iain, whose fate may be tied to hers through a series of past lives.

Shadow by Jenny Moss. When Shadow fails at her attempt to prevent the young queen's prophesied death at 16, the castle is thrown into chaos.

She escapes with a young knight, embarking upon a journey that reveals her true identity.

Anxious Hearts by Tucker Shaw. In alternate chapters, Shaw retells events of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem, "Evangeline," and relates a modern-day tale of Maine teens who were childhood friends and later grew to love one another.
