

The Port Washington Public Library

A monthly guide to your community library, its programs and services

Issue No. 220, June 2007

Port artist exhibits in Main Gallery

Port Washington artist Rachelle Krieger exhibits Expressions of Nature, a series of oil paintings, through June 28. The Art Advisory Council hosts a reception for the artist on Saturday, June 2 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Ms. Krieger was born in New York City in 1967. Her work has been exhibited in galleries throughout the United States and abroad. She has had several one-person shows, including those at the Mulligan-Shanoski Gallery in San Francisco, the Karen Mitchell Frank Gallery in Dallas and the Federal Building in Jamaica, Queens. In addition, her work has been featured in many group shows including those at the Simon Gallery in New Jersey, the Judi Rotenberg Gallery in Boston, the Wyndy Morehead Gallery in New Orleans and the Taylor Jardine Gallery in London.

An award-winning painter, Rachelle Krieger has been honored with the Mark Rothko Memorial Scholarship, the Alexander Medal, and the Award for Excellence in Design from Pratt Institute. She received a BFA from Pratt Institute in 1989, and has studied at the Art Students League and New York Studio School in Manhattan.

Her paintings are part of numerous private and corporate collections including those at the Texas State Bank; Hale & Dorr in Boston; and Rauscher Pierce in Houston.

June holidays

The library will be closed Sunday, June 17 in observance of Father's Day.

Fabulous Finds

Visit the Reading Room in June for an exhibit of rare, interesting and unusual printed books. These include illustrated books, first editions, and inscribed copies. Several items have been donated to the library, and some are from our own collections.

Summer fun for teens

Registration begins Tuesday, June 12 in TeenSpace for a number of teen programs/workshops. Dates and descriptions on back page.

Summer schedule

June 24 will be the last Sunday that the library is open until September. Beginning July 7, we'll be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. Our full weekend schedule resumes after Labor Day.

Summer job board for teens coming soon

The library will host the Port Washington Youth Council's Teen Employment Bulletin Board of summer job listings for teens beginning in July. If you're looking for student help this summer, contact Marianne Hart at 944-7625.

Need summer reading ideas?

If you're in a reading slump or just don't have the time to assemble your reading list this summer, let us help. To borrow a bag full of books geared toward your interests, simply stop by or call the Information Desk (883-4400, Ext. 136), answer a few questions, and we'll put together some summer reading sure to please and entertain you. For more information, call Lee Fertitta at 883-4400, Ext. 135.

Vacation loans

Vacation loans are available for Port Washington patrons with a clear library record. You may request a period longer than the normal 28 days on up to 10 books. Some exclusions apply, including new books, books on reserve, travel guides and media materials.

The library's recent Latino Festival was generously funded by the Friends of the Library with special recognition of support from Joyce and Robert Fieldsteel. Additional funding was provided by the Children's Advisory Council, and a great time was had by all. Photographs by Yolanda Froylan and Martin Vogel.

Sixth Annual concert with Warren Schein

From Broadway to Borscht Belt

The incomparable Warren Schein takes our library audience from Broadway to Borscht Belt in 90 minutes, give or take, on Friday, June 15 at 8 p.m.

Warren has been singing and performing on stages across the New York metropolitan area for over two decades. He has played lead singing roles in many summer stock and off-Broadway performances. He has also entertained Port Washington audiences as a lead performer with the Port Singers as well with the Herrick's Community Players and with Hofstra U.S.A. Productions. His most recent career endeavor is as an actor in television commercials for such well known advertisers as The History Channel, American Movie Classics, Nickelodeon, M&M's, Nick At Nite and WPLJ Radio.

SoundSwap film event:

The U.S. vs. John Lennon

Join us on Thursday, June 21 at 7:30 p.m. for a SoundSwap Film Event: The U.S. vs. John Lennon (2006-96 min.).

The story of John Lennon's transformation from mop-topped Beatle to crusader for world peace forms the core of this film by David Leaf and John Scheinfeld. Lennon's anti-war sentiments, outspoken nature, high visibility, and leftist connections made him a target for the paranoid Nixon administration and his chief watchdog J. Edgar Hoover. The film sheds light on Lennon's crusade — a deeply serious effort softened by humorous events and musical "happenings" — and features some key appearances from the period. It is also a disturbing look at the methods of persecution employed by a fragile government seeking to remove a "troublemaker."

Tony Traguado will present a number of related, rarely-seen Lennon clips before the film, and will also moderate a post-film Q&A discussion.

Re-inventing Retirement

Join Diane Reynolds on June 4 at 7 p.m. for Reinventing Retirement. Ms. Reynolds is fascinated with the role of work in people's lives, especially at crucial transition points. She has over 20 years of experience in career counseling and out-placement services, and has worked on such critical projects as The Displaced Home-maker Grant, The Federal Displaced Worker Program for the Pan Am World Airways shutdown, and the Northrup-Grumman Project. Her current interest is how work or "occupation" will play out with our expected increased longevity.

Let's Talk About It

The Port Washington Public Library proudly announces that it is once again among the 34 libraries nationwide selected to receive a grant from the American Library Association and NextBook for the project initiative "Let's Talk About It."

Beginning September 10, the library will host a series of five monthly discussions led by Sally Ann Drucker, professor at Nassau Community College, on the theme "Neighbors: The World Next Door." Seminars begin at 11 a.m. For further information, please contact program coordinator Jessica Ley, 883.4400, Ext. 123.

Fire Department and library celebrate new oral history and website

Over 150 people gathered at the library recently for the 100th anniversary of the Port Washington Fire Department and the debut of a website and oral history project that will preserve the history of our dedicated and very special volunteer fire services.

Organized by ex-chief Peter Zwerlein and library oral historian Elly Shodell, the reception also honored the more than 50 men and women who participated in oral history interviews describing their work and lives in the fire department. In their recordings, they remembered chiefs, hooks and ladders, lucky charms, fires, wives and families, the Ladies Auxiliary, signals, social life, "wet downs," "rowdies, rangers and runts," changes in the community, and much more. Guiding the process were two talented interviewers, Sally Wendkos Olds and Margaret Dildilian, with additional memoirs gathered by Christina Southard and Peter Zwerlein (Gerry Crooker and Tom Mahoney, in 1984). Frank Pavlak provided archival support and resources.

During his presentation of the "Answering the Call: The History of the Port Washington Volunteer Fire Department" website, Peter Zwerlein played audio excerpts from interviews, showed samples of the thousands of pictures and newspaper articles he digitized and captioned, and described how to navigate through the elements. Library users, students, educators, researchers and community members can access the stories, insights and rare vintage fire department material through either www.pwpl.org or www.pwfdhistory.com.

Thanks to the leadership of the Boards of both the Port Washington Public Library and the Port Washington Fire Department, this cooperative project has resulted in 58 interviews, 3000 pages of transcript, a detailed and lively website, audio excerpts from more than 60 hours of tape, historical narrative about Protection, Flower Hill, Atlantics and Fire Medic Companies, and visuals and newspaper articles dating back to 1888.

In memory of Myrna Turtleaub

In April, the library lost one of its most vibrant and talented volunteers, Myrna Turtleaub. Myrna was a long-standing member of the Art Advisory Council and curated many beautiful exhibitions in the library's gallery as well as contributing her own work to Council shows. Myrna was passionate about her art as she was about all that is beautiful in life. She freely gave her time, advice, talent and her laughter and we will miss her. She was unique. — NC

THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB OF LONG ISLAND'S 28TH ANNUAL EXHIBITION continues through June 30. Club members photographed landscapes, seascapes, cityscapes, still lifes, portraits, travel pictures and abstractions. Ride 'n Read resumes at LIRR station

Library service to Long Island Railroad commuters resumes July 11. The Port Washington Public Library will be on-site at the LIRR station every Wednesday morning (weather permitting) from 7 to 9 a.m. through September 5. To help make your commute more enjoyable, a collection of popular paperbacks will be available for you to borrow.

You don't need your library card to borrow books. After 14 days, simply return the books to the library table at the station on Wednesday mornings or to the library.

Government documents:

Practical information for daily living

Visit the Reference Room for government information. We maintain a comprehensive collection of directories, manuals, documents, maps and clippings covering a wide range of subjects at every level of government. In addition to federal directories, guides, and budgets, we can provide information on contacting your government representatives, supply you with voter registration forms and absentee ballot applications, and direct you to local government and social services offices. We have publications on emergency management and evacuation procedures, and our map file includes FEMA Long Island flood maps. We receive New York State financial reports and planning documents.

On a more local level, we have a wealth of material on issues of environmental and civic interest, such as the use of the Munsey Park Cleaners site, the LIRR multi-level parking proposal, and the restoration of Stannards Brook Park. We have copies of the local Shared Vision Plan for the Port Washington Peninsula, which was recently completed following an extensive cooperative effort between local government agencies, Port's six villages, and area organizations, such as the Residents for a More Beautiful Port Washington, the Port Washington Business Improvement District and the General Council of Homeowner Associations.

The Town of North Hempstead provides us with codes and ordinances, proposed and final budgets, and zoning maps. Our villages and special districts are also represented in our collection. We receive documents, policy statements, budgets and publications from the Villages of Baxter Estates, Manorhaven, Port Washington North and Sands Point. Special districts such as the Water, Fire, Police, Garbage and Water Pollution Control Districts provide us with information and reports. The School District is well represented, and we have a comprehensive collection of budgets, newsletters, board agendas, minutes of meetings, calendars, handbooks and other publications. Our own library document collection includes board minutes, newsletters, statistical reports, copies of policies and procedures and historical items.

Please call the Reference Desk at 883-4400, Ext. 111 with your questions, or e-mail us at reference@pwpl.org.

Dinosaur Display

Media Services director Jonathan Guildroy first fell in love with dinosaurs as a 6-year-old visiting the 1964 World's Fair in Flushing. The appeal of these prehistoric monsters was immediately evident — they were huge, fantastic and ferocious! Ever since then he has collected dinosaur toys, books, cards, models, magazines and skull reproductions. He has also drawn hundreds of dinosaurs and modeled them in Sculpey. This summer, Jonathan will display some of his collection of miniature dinosaurs in the Children's Room. For the record, his favorite prehistoric creature is Dimetrodon, a sail-backed pelycosaur that actually predates the dinosaurs by a few million years. He writes, "Dinosaurs continue to inspire wonder and delight with their amazing diversity, their baffling secrets and their sheer size. I hope I'm never too old to feel like an awe-struck 6-year-old whenever I'm staring up at a T. rex skeleton or playing with a tiny Triceratops toy."

Summer Reading Programs

The following three reading programs begin July 9 and end August 17. Pre-registration is not required — sign-up when you are ready to begin and participate.

Smart Start Reading Program For Babies

Learning begins at birth, so it is important to focus on early literacy skills even for the youngest children. To this end, we are offering a reading program for children ages birth to 30 months. Participation is simple — just read, sing or do fingerplays with your child. We'll have gifts for your baby and special story times to be announced.

Get a Clue @ Your Library

Readers entering first through sixth grade are invited to join the Get a Clue @ Your Library Summer Reading Club 2007. Participants visit the Children's Room during regular library hours to record the books they have read at home and receive weekly prizes. At the end of the 6-week program, those who have read at least 6 books will receive a certificate and gift.

Read-To-Me Club 2007

Pre-readers, ages 2½ to 5 are welcome to join the Read-To-Me Club with an adult. Families visit the Children's Room during regular library hours to record the books they have shared together at home and receive weekly prizes. At the end of the 6-week program, children who have shared at least 10 books will receive a certificate and gift.

Junior Aide Program

Children entering 5th and 6th grade are invited to volunteer a few hours each week from July 9 through August 17 to assist with the summer reading clubs and various activities in the Children's Room. Registration is limited and begins Monday, June 11 at 9:15 a.m. in the Children's Room or by calling 883-4400, Ext.150.
